

ROLLA WELLS, MAYOR OF NEW ST. LOUIS, INTERVIEWED BY THE POST-DISPATCH CAMERA

MAYOR WELLS ARRIVES AT THE CITY HALL IN HIS CAR-RIAGE.

SIX hours a day of official duty is the precedent which Mayor Rolla Wells has set for himself at the opening of his administration.

From 9 o'clock in the morning until noon and from 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 5:30 or 6 o'clock the new mayor sits behind the broad desk in his inner office, receiving callers, mail and messages.

Mayor Wells had no office hours to announce when he was inaugurated and his not yet arranged definite schedule, except to order that the office shall be open all day and that some one of the force shall be on duty during the noon hour, when the closing of the office was customary under former administrations. His office hours have shaped themselves thus far.

The visitors to Mayor Wells' office are divided into three classes—city officials, casual callers and office seekers. The second and third classes merge into each other so that distinction between them is impossible until actual conversation has begun. Then the mayor may hear a few words of simple congratulation and well wishing, followed by a hearty "good day," or he may be asked for an appointment, with copious information as to the personal fitness and party service of the applicant.

Some of the office seekers are discouraged from their purpose by Temporary Secretary Whyte, and do not enter the mayor's inner sanctuary. The genuine place hunter is not to be dissuaded by anyone, and the new mayor is already learning that the number of men who are willing to serve the city is likely to exceed any demand which may be created by the changes which the new heads of municipal departments will make.

Mayor Has Smile
for All Visitors.

Every office-seeker who visits the mayor gets a smile and a handshake, and usually finds the executive a patient listener. Then he is reminded that the heads of the departments who were elected on the ticket with Mr. Wells have not yet taken charge of their new offices, and that the appointments to city positions will be made by them. This closes the interview.

City officials who visit the mayor are given extended interviews and encouraged to come again. Among callers of this class Friday morning were Health Commissioner Starkloff and Lighting Supervisor O'Reilly and Coroner Funkhouser and his office force.

William H. Thompson, president of the National Bank of Commerce, was also a caller Friday. He said his visit was purely one of courtesy.

Edward Butler was in the mayor's outer office, but left without going within.

"I haven't anything to ask of the mayor," said he, "except jobs for some of my colored friends, and when asked for them I shall want to get them."

The mayor Friday appointed James J. Clark, aged 34, as page in his office. The young man lives at 156 Carr street, and has been a telephone operator at the North Market Street Police Station for three years.

Mayor Wells will leave the city Saturday morning for a two day stay in Chicago. He will go to that city for the purpose of attending the banquet of the Princeton University alumni, which is to be held Saturday night. During his absence President Joseph L. Hornsby of the City Council will be acting mayor.

Mayor Wells Will Not Remit Fines.

An application for the remittance of a fine imposed in the First District Police Court was refused Friday by Temporary Secretary Joseph P. Whyte, who stated that his action in the case was in line with the policy of the new mayor, and would serve as a precedent in future cases.

"If there is any reason for leniency in this case," said Mr. Whyte to the applicant, "the judge who imposed the fine is acquainted with it, and has the power to remit the fine. For this office to do so would reflect upon the judgment of the court in a matter in which it has a better opportunity to be informed than we have. The policy of this office will be to issue no remits."

DEATH CLOSED
HIS LONG VIGIL

August Dufoux Took His Life
at Early Morn.

HE WAS A NATIVE OF FRANCE

SAT UP ALL NIGHT THURSDAY
ARRANGING HIS EFFECTS.

A Two Years' Battle With Hunger and Debt Was Too Much for the Old Man and He Gave It Up.

An all-night vigil, spent in writing messages and making up little packages of his scanty belongings for friends, preceded the suicide of August Dufoux, a former wealthy Frenchman, 60 years of age, who shot himself in the mouth at 4:15 o'clock Friday at his boarding house, 1207 Washington avenue.

In a letter to his landlady, Mrs. Adam Etienne, the suicide, who was a man of education and refinement, explained that after a battle of two years with hunger he was compelled to give up the fight.

Fred Willie, a boarder, heard the muffled report of a revolver from Dufoux's room early Friday morning. He aroused the landlady, who went with him to the room, from which sounds issued. These they mistook for the old man's snoring and returned to bed. About 6 o'clock they entered the room by means of a pass key and found Dufoux lying dead upon the floor.

He was fully dressed and had not been in bed during the night. The lamp still burned dimly on the table, which was littered with papers, including the letter addressed to Mrs. Etienne.

Dufoux had evidently placed the revolver in his mouth as he sat in a chair by the table and pulled the trigger. The revolver was an old one, which he had owned for a long time.

Mrs. Etienne stated that Dufoux had lived at her place about five years. He taught French lessons when he could find pupils, but for about four years was employed as a collector by a house furnishing establishment. He lost his position and was out of work for nearly a year, but accepted a position in the office of the Excelsior Laundry on Grand avenue about a month ago at $4 a week. The debts which he mentioned in his letter were contracted while he was out of work.

Dufoux was well educated and in France held the position of notary, which is of some distinction in that country. After losing his money, about 16 years ago, he came to America in hope of making another fortune.

He was married twice, the first wife being dead. The second wife, Mrs. Etienne Dufoux, left him about three years ago, returning to France.

The old man had often seemed depressed and spoke to Mrs. Etienne of his sufferings. He had not heard from his relatives in France for over two years, and while he had many friends in St. Louis, he hesitated about asking them for assistance.

He was a great reader and patronized several of the circulating libraries. In his room were found two packages of books, one belonging to the Young Men's Sodality of St. Francis Xavier's church and the other to the public library.

He left his clothing and a number of French books to be removed to the morgue and the effects of the dead man were taken to the coroner's office, where Dr. Funkhouser translated the letter to Mrs. Etienne, which was in French.

Mr. Etienne made a trip among the French residents of the city Friday for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expense of a respectable funeral for Mr. Dufoux.

CUBAN EDITORS IN JAIL.

Captain of the Port of Havana Was the Trial Judge.

HAVANA, April 12.—Capt. Lucien Young, captain of the port of Havana, has sentenced Secundino Torral de Garcia and Julio Urrutia, editor and director of El Stevedore, to 30 and 30 days respectively in a state prison for a libelous article, in which it was said that Young lied when he sent to Gen. Wood a copy of the paper purporting to contain the agreement with the stevedores reached in the recent strike.

Young has a harbor court and authority for his action. The stevedores are angry and threatened to make a strike.

VISITOR SAVES
FOUR FROM FIRE

Heroic Action of Mrs. Rose
Mueller Thursday.

TWICE MOUNTED A STAIRWAY

EACH TIME FROM FLAMES SHE RESCUED TWO PERSONS.

Mrs. Anna Reising Was Sick and Unable to Rise to Assist Her Children to Escape, but Mrs.
Mueller Was Brave.

Mrs. Rose Mueller of 2438 South Second street carried Mrs. Anna Reising and three small children from the second story of their burning home at 2448 South Second street Thursday noon.

Twice the heroic woman mounted the steep stairway and carried two helpless human beings to the street. Each time she feared that the roof cracking over her head would fall and block her path to safety.

The roof was more stanch than she divined. Built in the good old days of heavy timber, it burned slowly and firemen arrived in time to save the building.

The fire started in the roof over the sick chamber where Mrs. Anna Reising was lying.

Mrs. Reising was unable to get up, and Mrs. Mueller, her neighbor, and her little son, Irving Mueller, were visiting when the "fire" broke out in the street.

A puff of smoke blown in the window revealed that the roof above their heads was blazing.

Mrs. Reising abandoned hope. She could not leave the room and there were three children to be saved.

"I'll save you—wait!" Mrs. Mueller cried. The instinct of motherhood led her to catch up her own son first. With the left arm she held Clifford, Mrs. Reising's 2-year-old baby.

Carrying the screaming children, Mrs. Mueller dashed down the steps.

Mrs. Reising and her babe were left alone with the roof cracking and flaming overhead. She could hear shouts in the street and the clang of the hose reel on the steps. Not until Mrs. Mueller reached the bed did she realize that she had a chance to escape. Even then mother love triumphed over fear.

"The baby—take the baby first, then come for me!" she cried to her savior.

"Follow me!" Mrs. Mueller called. She caught the sick woman around the waist and swung her from the bed. With her left hand she reached for the baby and ran for the stairway a second time.

The way was still open, though filled with smoke.

At the street door Otto Hoffman of 24 Wyoming street met Mrs. Mueller and helped her.

BARTENDER
SHOOTS BARBER

Edward Marshall Wounded
by Edward Rheinhardt.

QUARREL OVER A WOMAN

SHOOTING OCCURRED IN CANTY'S
SALOON, FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Upbraided Rheinhardt for Talking About Him Behind His Back—
Latter Claims Self-Defense.

Edward Marshall was shot and probably fatally wounded Friday afternoon by Edward Rheinhardt, a bartender in Al Canty's saloon, at Fourteenth and Chestnut streets. Marshall is 23 years old and resides at 1611 Clark avenue. He is a barber. Rheinhardt was tending bar for Canty when the shooting occurred.

The trouble between the men is said to have arisen over remarks which Rheinhardt is reported to have made about the manner in which Marshall had treated a woman who was a mutual acquaintance. The remarks were made in the presence of a third person, who, it is averred, repeated them to Marshall.

Marshall went to Canty's saloon and upbraided Rheinhardt for talking behind his back. A quarrel ensued. Marshall is alleged to have put his hand in his pocket in a threatening manner, and Rheinhardt warned him that it would not be well for him to carry out the alleged threat.

Marshall, it is said, continued to walk towards Rheinhardt and the latter fired, the ball entering Marshall's right side.

Marshall was taken to the hospital, where he is now lying.

Rheinhardt was arrested and is being held in the city jail.

The shooting occurred at about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The saloon was closed for business for several hours.

The police are investigating the case.

UNITED STATES JUDGES MAKE A TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENT.

JUDGE CALDWELL WILL REST

Judge Adams Will Sit in Appeals Court and Judge Marshall Succeed Judge Adams.

United States Circuit Judge John A. Marshall of Salt Lake City, Utah, will on Monday morning mount the bench of the United States District and Circuit Courts for the eastern district of Missouri in the Federal building.

He has been designated to take charge of these courts by the judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, who had previously designated United States Circuit Judge Elmer B. Adams of St. Louis to sit with them in the place of Judge Henry C. Caldwell of Little Rock, Ark.

Judge Caldwell is on his way to Colorado for a rest. He has a beautiful summer home there.

The Appeals Court, of which he is a member, and which has been in session here for several weeks, meets in St. Paul the first Monday in May.

Judge Caldwell says he has no intention of retiring.

"The law says that after a Federal judge has served 10 years on the bench and has reached the age of 70 he may retire on full pay," the judge told the Post-Dispatch.

But, though he has served more than three times the necessary number of years, I am not yet 70 years of age.

Judge Caldwell is 68 years old. He was appointed by President Lincoln 35 years ago.

MORE SHARES ARE OFFERED

Holders of Exposition Shares Willing to Turn Them Over to the Library Board.

Librarian F. M. Crunden of the Public Library received Friday morning a certificate for two shares of Exposition stock from Mrs. Kate Frazer.

He also received the following tender of additional shares:

F. M. Crunden: Dear Sir—We are heartily in favor of the Exposition site for the St. Louis Public Library, and herewith beg to contribute our holdings, 14 shares of St. Louis Exposition stock, towards that project.

We will surrender the certificate any time you desire. Waiting around for the undertaking we are, yours truly, WERNSE & DIECKMAN.

Nearly fifty owners of Exposition shares of varying quantities have signified their willingness to turn over their holdings to the library board for the purpose of converting the present building into a park site and central library location.

Mr. Crunden told the Post-Dispatch Friday morning that he was unable to say exactly what proportion of the shareholders were willing to aid in the new library movement, as he had not yet been able to look at the Exposition records and see who the owners of all the stock were.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION.

Arrests Followed Looting of the Consumers' Cafe.

Four men are prisoners at the Four Courts Police Station, where they will be held until Capt. Reynolds can investigate the burglary of the Consumers' Cafe, 215 and 217 South Seventh street, which occurred Thursday morning, when several hundreds of dollars worth of equipment was stolen.

The prisoners are William Kieb, 3035 Easton avenue; George Pollock, 410 Fifteenth street; Patrick White, 317 Spruce street; and Thomas Maggior, of Shreveport, La. They were taken into custody at various places on the downtown streets Thursday evening by Officers Cremin and Bieater.

J. L. DONOVAN MISSING.

Investigation Shows That Other Donovans Are Also Away.

The advertisement inserted in the St. Louis press by Mrs. Maggie Donovan of 370 Locust street inquiring the whereabouts of her husband, James A. Donovan, to whom she was married Sept. 30, 1898, has developed the fact that several James Donovans are missing and it may be that they are all one and the same man.

Mrs. Donovan claims that shortly after their marriage at Clayton she learned through her husband's acquaintances that he had another wife in Chicago. This led Mrs. Donovan to make an investigation of the difference marriage license records contiguous to St. Louis, with the result that several James Donovans had secured permits to wed.

There is a Mrs. Frank E. Donovan in East St. Louis at 1234 Park avenue, who was formerly Miss Amy Cadel. She was married April 20, 1897, and divorced a few months later. She says that she does not know where her husband is. He gave his address as New York in making application for the license.

Mrs. Maggie Donovan believes that he is the man to whom she was wed.

LOST SHIP STOPS FINDERIES.

Bound for San Francisco, She Is Loaded With Non-Supplurous Coal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Foundrymen and blacksmiths of San Francisco are beginning to feel the shortage of Cumberland coal, which almost amounts to a famine, is caused by the fact that the ship John McDonald, into port from Baltimore, is full of Cumberland coal on board. It has been out 10 days, and while she has not yet been paid, there is 75 per cent reinsurance on her.

Cumberland coal is non-supplurous, and is used almost exclusively in forging. Unless the McDonalds can get into port within a short time it will be necessary to have the coal shipped overland by rail.

UNCLE SAM AS A DETECTIVE

Registered Letter Located a Kidnaped Boy.

FOSTER BROTHER'S HAPPY IDEA

INSTRUCTIONS WERE GIVEN TO MAKE PERSONAL DELIVERY.

The Lad Was Found in His Mother's Custody at Altoona, Pa., and Taken Away From the Woman.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A registered letter, written by one schoolboy and received for another, has solved the mystery, which followed the kidnaping of John Bernard Morfitt last August from the house of his foster parents, 523 Adams street. The 9-year-old boy, for whom detectives have been looking in vain ever since his mother, Justina Willman, carried him away from Chicago, received and accepted for the letter himself at the residence of an uncle in Altoona, Wis.

The employment of a registered letter to locate the missing boy was suggested to Attorney Morfitt by an examination held recently in the school to which the boy was letter-writing. When Frank Morfitt, 13 years old, mentioned that he had written a test message, a lucky idea occurred to his father.

"Write a letter to Bernie," said his father. "Perhaps the little fellow might get it. He will send it to Eau Claire, Wis., as that is the last place we heard he was in." Frank wrote the letter, and it was sent by registered mail. On the same train went another letter, this from Mr. Morfitt to the postmaster of the town, directing him to deliver the first to one but the boy himself, and to make him sign for it. If he did not call for it the postmaster was directed to forward the letter to Altoona. The boy was not found in Eau Claire, but at Altoona the plan succeeded.

Young Morfitt signed the receipt. The return ship was sent to Mr. Morfitt in Chicago. Mr. Morfitt then consulted an attorney at Eau Claire and secured a writ of habeas corpus. When the child was taken into court the defendant, Anton Willman, the uncle, secured a continuance till next Monday. The boy was placed in the custody of the justice of the peace, James J. McMahon.

John Bernard Morfitt, or "Bernie" Morfitt, is the son of Justina Willman. When the child was an infant it was taken, with its mother, to Mr. Morfitt's home. The county records show that on June 23, 1895, Gustav Willman consented to waive all rights and claims to her child. Last August she took the boy out for a ride and that was the last seen of him until he was found in Wisconsin. His mother is supposed to have died in Washington, Wis., last November.

CONSUL M'COOK NOT DEAD.

Reports Are Pronounced Incorrect, Though He Is Very Ill.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—Col. J. C. McCook, United States consul for the Klondike, whose dangerous illness was announced in Dawson a few days ago, was reported dead by the Whitehorse Tribune of April 4. On that date the paper published what purported to be a Dawson special to the effect that the consul had died of pneumonia. However, the same day the Whitehorse agent of the Whitehorse and Yukon Railroad told A. J. Morris of Dawson that the announcement was premature; that Col. McCook was still alive, but at death's door.

Col. McCook is said to have contracted pneumonia while going to Dawson from his Philadelphia home.

New Torpedo Boat May Make Thirty-One Knots.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—The United States torpedo boat destroyer Goldsborough leaves today for Tacoma. Saturday morning she will make her last official trial trip over a 20-knot course. Thirty knots an hour is the speed required of her, but her builders believe that she will do at least 31 knots and possibly a fraction. She will return to this port Saturday afternoon.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure-All, Nor a Modern Miracle, But Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of their most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this, and an man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and regaining the stomach which rapidly restores its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package. They are manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co. of Marshall, Mich.

Any druggist will tell you it gives universal satisfaction.

RUNS A WALDORF-ASTORIA FOR DOGS

A COUNTRY PARADISE FOR CANINE BOARDERS

JOSEPH TURNER AND SOME OF HIS WELL BRED CHARGES.

—Photographed by the Post-Dispatch.

Joseph Turner Takes Care of Dogs for Wealthy Clients and Derives a Good Income From the Service.

Out where St. Louis avenue ends in the green hills north of Westlawn Joseph Turner has established his "select boarding house for dogs."

Here aristocratic canines rest in luxury. Their owners pay for their keep.

Turner loves dogs, but he does not keep dogs for love. He charges from $5 to $8 a month. Many young men in St. Louis secure board for themselves for $12 a month. Turner's place is the Waldorf-Astoria of the canine world. Six of the dogs boarding there now were raised in an atmosphere of coupons and pate de foie gras.

At Turner's they eat "cracklins and corn pone." This composition is Turner's self-invented dog food.

Turner is a countryman, who got a notion in his head that the best way to make money was to supply a demand.

He looked the field over and concluded that a dog hotel would be a necessity to many city people who have dogs and scanty yards.

So Turner bought a ticket and rode from Sedalia, Mo., to St. Louis to carry out his plan.

He found a nice old country home, with wide lawns, at 523 St. Louis avenue. He leased the place. The lawn was divided by wire into dog yards 30 feet square. A space of one acre was fenced for romping grounds. He built 40 kennels, neat as a pin, and his tavern was ready for guests.

They kept their trunks for security, and prunes are not on the bill of fare.

But there is jealousy and back biting in the dog world after a very human fashion. "Jack," fights "Nick," the water spaniel, because "Nick" has mastered the trick of standing erect. And "Pet," the big pointer indulges in personalities every time she sees "Tip," because "Tip's" hair curls naturally.

Toy dogs and watch dogs live happily and guard chapter board at Turner's than the hunting canine who requires exercise, watching and schooling.

Turner supplies each requirement. He trains the dogs, drives three miles in the country with the pack following each day so they may exercise and brings the dogs to Union Station when their owners wish to hunt. When the hunt is over he meets his boarders at the station and takes them back to his boarding place.

The hunting dogs know when Turner opens their yards to take them out for the hunting trips.

"They riot in freedom and their throats choke with joyous bark."

They know that men and guns and game-smelling hunting coats are at the station. They know of the forest camp, the dog tent filled with straw and the hunting that waits at the end of the railroad trip.

Then comes the untrammeled freedom of the fields and woods, the moist earth pregnant with smells wherein a dog reads a thousand messages, the trailing of the quail, the quattering, the creeping, the hot game scent that thrills the heart and keeps the dogs' nerves jumping until the gunner fires.

Hunting is recreation to the man. Life to his dog. Nature is the dog's teacher. He earth his book that he reads with his nose; the quail's whistle is his call to battle, and the matching of his nose against bird cunning and wit is the apex of his joy.

Then, when the hunt is over, the sight of Turner's hunting hall carries joy and excitement to his boarders.

REV. KELLER RECOVERS

MINISTER SHOT BY BARKER TO BE REINSTATED.

HIS VISION REMAINS DIM

A Demonstration in His Favor Will Be Made When He Takes His Pulpit Again.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Preparations are under way by members of the Trinity Mission Chapel to make the return of the Rev. John Keller to the pulpit at Arlington, N. J., an incident memorable in the church history. It is not the intention to advertise the time of his reappearance, but every member of the congregation will know of it, and it is intended that the warmth of the greeting shall set at rest rumors that there is among them a division of sentiment regarding the charges made against the pastor by Mrs. Barker, whose husband shot him.

Wrapped in a heavy ulster and so disguised behind a large pair of colored spectacles that several of his friends did not know him, Mr. Keller this week took his first trip in the open air since the shooting. The trip consisted of an hour's drive through the country with Dr. James A. Huxton, in the doctor's carriage.

In the short walk from the house to the curb, Mr. Keller showed unmistakable signs of his defective vision. He kept hold of the hand of his physician and set his feet forward timidly. Physician and patient drove past the spot where the shooting took place and turned west into Midland avenue and down the decline at West Arlington to the handsome new driveway just completed along the Passaic river.

As they drove along, Mr. Keller could distinguish only the chief features of the landscape. Even hills, however, appeared to bring him delight and he laughed and chatted merrily. When they got back home to his general neighbors who had seen the wounded clergyman go out and were on the watch for his return met them. Dr. Huxton hurried his patient through the small-sized crowd, however, declining to let him stop even for a moment's chat.

The trial, which resulted in a sentence of six years' penal servitude in Siberia, with loss of civil rights, was held behind closed doors.

Lagowski, in his defense, declared that it was his intention to free Russia from the reactionary influence of the procurator-general.

STOCK MARKET THIS MONTH

IN SHARP ADVANCES WAS THE

MOST STARTLING ON RECORD

Advances of 8 or 10 Per Cent a Day Were Common and Burlington Averaged Higher Than 11-2 Per Cent for 30 Days.

The formation of new bull pools and the real or fictitious reports of consolidations, affecting many of the leading railroads of the country, are the principal items responsible for the sensational and hitherto unparalleled advances in the New York stock market. Railroads which a month ago were selling in the 80s and 90s are now above par and Burlington is nearly 100 points higher than a year ago.

H. F. Knight, a member of the firm of A. G. Edwards and Sons, writing of the Post-Dispatch: "The bull market of the past month was stronger than even the most optimistic but even dared predict. The sensational advances of some of the leading railroads of the country brought about sympathetic changes in other issues, and sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the 2,000,000 share line, breaking the record for a single day's sales."

"Advances in the railroad and industrial lists were due largely to real or rumored consolidations and predictions of extra dividends and not so much on account of short covering, the shorts being soon worked out on the advance. There are some shorts in the market yet who are hoping for a consolidation of the railroads so that the market will seek a lower level."

The advance of 40 points in Burlington, from 12 to 52, is the most sensational in the memory of the market. There are some shorts in the market yet who are hoping for a consolidation of the railroads so that the market will seek a lower level."

"Rock Island was advanced 30 points during the month on the rumored sale of the road to the Pennsylvania, Louisville & Nashville, with the rest of the market making a big advance, selling above par. There

WHEAT 50c, DOWN 1 1/2c

AFTER HEAVY SHORT COVERING

WHEAT BROKE RAPIDLY.

EARLY SUPPORT WAS GOOD

Traders Were Anxious to Cover Their

Short Lines, Causing a Sharp

Upward Movement.

In the early market wheat futures were extremely strong, heavy short covering and a good speculative demand being responsible for a rapid advance. Later long growers rallied and began to liquidate their holdings, a violent break resulting. May wheat falling from 75c to 70c, and July from 69 1/2c to 64 1/2c.

On Chicago wheat in the early session, advancing a few fractions, but at the close working off, the market was again advanced, 1 1/2c, to 70c. There was no trading in the futures for the day and July wheat closed 1 1/2c up and July advanced 1 1/2c up.

The upward movement of the wheat market continued today, the general impression being that the market was overvalued and shorts were inclined to cover on every advance. There was some scattered selling on the bulls, but despite this the market continued strong and all crop positions were improved.

The Liverpool market closed 1/2c advanced for spot, and the market was overvalued and shorts were inclined to cover on every advance. There was some scattered selling on the bulls, but despite this the market continued strong and all crop positions were improved.

According to the Trade Bulletin of the week ending April 12, 1901, the wheat crop in the United States is estimated at 1,344,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,244,000,000 in 1900 and 1,144,000,000 in 1899.

Receipts of wheat at St. Louis today were 18,000 bu. Of these 200 sacks and 12 cars were local. Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 188 cars.

Receipts of wheat at primary points today were 310,000 bu.

Corn was steady today, but still did not show much sympathy with the advance in wheat prices. There was only scattered buying and on the other hand locals were not inclined to take profits, so the market hung dull.

Argentine corn shipments for the past week are estimated at 124,000 bushels, compared with 124,000 in 1900 and 124,000 in 1899.

Receipts of corn at St. Louis today were 28,000 bu. Of these 7,000 sacks and 12 cars were local. Receipts of corn at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 188 cars.

Receipts of corn at primary points today were 310,000 bu.

Oats in Poor Demand.

May oats was favored with a bid of 35c in the early part of the session, but from then on the market was not considered as a really bullish one. Oats clearances today were 188,400 bu.

Modern Miller Outlook.

Crop conditions are without material change from a week ago, except that reports of insects in the wheat fields have been somewhat increased. In the case of the Mississippi river, where the Russian war was prevalent in the fall, the heavy rains and cool weather have caused a backward season.

Early Cotton Market Steady.

Cotton futures opened easier and then showed a slight recovery. The market was not considered as a really bullish one. Cotton clearances today were 188,400 bu.
